The ICA central stores Västerås, Sweden

In June 2010, Zehnder got a large order from the ICA central storage in Västerås. A total of 107 air cleaner units from the Clean Air Solutions series has been installed in the 110 000 m<sup>2</sup> storage buildings (83 of the E3000 model and 24 of the more powerful E12000 model), making this deal one of Zehnder's largest ever.

ICA AB, owned by Hakon Invest AB and Royal Ahold, is one of the leading retail chains in the Nordic countries, and has about 2200 shops in Sweden, Norway and the Baltic countries. The central storage in Västerås is one of ICA's six distribution units supplying goods to the Swedish ICA stores. The new air cleaner units will mainly be placed near entrances and exits and in other areas of the storage with heavy traffic. In this way, particulates in the air are filtered out at an early stage.

ICA has strict rules for the work environment, hygiene, sustainable development and health and safety. Petri Ranta, technical director and the contact person for Zehnder at ICA Västerås, explains:

"Dan Ärheim from Zehnder contacted me the first time during the winter of 2008/2009, which happened to be a very suitable time. We were doing a risk assessment, including everything from safety to the environment. The solution that was presented to us by Zehnder aimed to improve the work environment for the staff, and to ensure a high standard of hygiene for the products and the buildings. The reactions from the staff at the ICA storage in Västerås has been quite positive. They have among other things mentioned that the buildings are nicer to be in now, and that there is less dust and smells."
